

PHILADELPHIA'S NEXT EXPOSITION

Committee from Congress Listens to Arguments for an Appropriation.

THEY LOOK THROUGH THE MUSEUMS

The Proposed Exposition to Begin May 10, 1899, and to Be Held Under the Auspices of the Philadelphia Commercial Museum and the Franklin Institute—William Harper as Director General.

Philadelphia, March 2.—The members of the committee on interstate and foreign commerce of the house of representatives came here from Washington today to attend a conference relative to the proposed national exposition of American manufactures and products in this city May 10, 1899. The exhibition is to be held under the joint auspices of the Philadelphia Commercial Museum and the Franklin Institute.

THE INDIAN SCHOOL

Tenth Commencement of the Institution.

Cayle, Pa., March 2.—The tenth commencement of the Indian industrial school opened this afternoon with the class day exercises. There was a great number of visitors from abroad, among them Indian Commissioner W. A. Jones, Assistant Commissioner, Sherman, chairman of the committee on Indian affairs, and a number of other congressmen; General Eaton, Rev. Duncan, of Alaska; Rev. Dr. Lippincott, and President Jameson, of the Seneca nation.

FLYING WHEELMEN LASSOED

Two Struck a Telegraph Wire and Were Seriously Hurt.

Philadelphia, Pa., March 2.—While searching on the road leading from the White House pike to the Mt. Ephraim pike yesterday, Charles Lukens and William Bowen, of the Crescent Wheelmen, of Camden, met with a peculiar accident. Telegraph lines were at work along the road and had a wire stretched across the thoroughfare. Bowen was ahead and saw the wire in time to turn aside, but he was thrown from his wheel and quite badly hurt. His bicycle was also damaged.

PHILADELPHIA'S WATER

An Effort on Foot to Supply the City with Filtered Water.

Philadelphia, March 2.—The bill giving the Schuylkill Valley Water Company the contract to supply the city with filtered water for fifty years, named select council today at a special session by a vote of 22 to 18. The minority has persistently opposed the passage of the bill and it required four special sessions of the select men before the friends of the bill succeeded.

FATE OF THE MISTLETOE

Crew of the Sinking Brig Rescued by the Kensington.

Philadelphia, March 2.—Captain R. D. Cave and the crew of the British brig Mistletoe, which was abandoned in a sinking condition off the Newfound bank on Feb. 26, arrived here today on the British steamer Kensington. The crew numbered seven, George Cayser, first mate; John Coovig, Charles Fleming, Joseph Butt,

Robert Randall, R. Churchill and Ernest Cave, a son of Captain Cave.

The Mistletoe left St. Johns, N. F., Feb. 14, with cod fish for Bahia, Brazil. Heavy weather was encountered two days out and a northeast gale drove her into an ice floe and she was buffeted about for several days. The ice stove in her side and she began to leak. The pumps were manned, but to no effect, and it was decided to head her in the line of trans-Atlantic steamers. The crew suffered much from the cold, but kept at work until on the 26th the Kensington came in sight. Signals were exchanged and the steamer stood by while a boat was lowered from the Mistletoe with the captain and crew. Captain Cave set fire to the abandoned brig before leaving her. Excellent care and attention were given the shipwrecked men by the officers of the steamer.

MR. SINGERLY'S FUNERAL

Remains of the Distinguished Editor to be Buried at Laurel Hill. Philadelphia, March 2.—The funeral of William M. Singerly, publisher, editor and financier, took place this afternoon from his late residence, 1701 Locust street, and the body of the distinguished citizen was buried in Laurel Hill cemetery. The services at the house were attended by men in every walk of life, from the humblest citizen to those distinguished in social, political, professional and financial circles. Rev. John H. Converse, rector of the Protestant Episcopal church at Gwynedd, Pa., officiated.

The body lay in a black casket, the lid of which bore his name, date of birth and death. The doors of the house were opened to the public at 11 o'clock and for over four hours a line of people passed through and took a last look at the features of the dead man. When the casket was finally closed a long procession of carriages followed the remains to the cemetery. The active pall-bearers included several of Mr. Singerly's oldest employees on the Record and other close friends. The honorary pall-bearers numbered about thirty and included the governor of the state, the mayor of the city, judges of the courts, publishers, editors and merchants.

USE FOR THE REINDEER

Government to Send an Exploring Expedition to Alaska.

Portland, Ore., March 2.—The United States government is about to send an expedition from Vancouver's Barracks to find a practicable route up Copper River, Alaska, to the Yukon Basin. Wade official information is not yet available, it is understood that the expedition is to consist of fifty men and three officers of the Fourteenth infantry, and that it will leave Vancouver barracks for the North about March 15.
